The Law and the Name

The name of the new table luxury brand "Sweet Nat," but the law, passed before it was invented, requires that the word "oleomargarine" be placed on every package. Such is the law, but in point of fact the new table luxury is very different from ordinary oleomargarine. In the first place, it contains no animal fats or preservatives of any kind except high-grade salt. It is made entirely from apple sauce and is naturally creamy. It is the only product of its kind that is not made from coconut and pasteurized milk are the ingredients. In the second place, it is a digestible food. It is served from the best creamery butter. Its price is a daily cream—32c. a gallon. Sold only at the Directories, Inc. Co.'s yellow front store, 157 Main St., Norwich, where Benedict Fruit, Coffee and Grocery Specialties are retailed at wholesale prices. Look for our store in your town.

The United War Work Campaign in the Willimantic district has its intensive beginning today with all town churches and their workers at the torch of efficiency and ambitious to make a good record. All the necessary ammunition in the form of printed material, posters and campaign instructions have been given out. It only remains for workers and prospects alike to prove that this district is not wanting in generosity towards the boys who have many needs of routine necessities and at the cantonments in America.

"Show your posters" is the timely request sent out by the publicity bureau on the eve of the big campaign week. Every merchant should have been supplied Friday or Saturday. It is hoped that there will not be a show window in the city that does not display at least one of the campaign posters. Those who have been unintentionally passed by or those who would like to use more posters for decorative effects should notify campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce hall and they will be supplied, as there is a large stock on hand.

Such a large number of the handsome "Give" posters were allotted this district, the publicity bureau has decided to give them away to all who apply. A "Give" poster displayed in every home is possible if housekeepers will call at the Chamber of Commerce and take them away. Any industries which have not received their share of posters are requested to apply for them and the same thing applies to the schools. Every school principal will be requested today to send a pupil after campaign circulars to be distributed among the children with the object of having the literature taken home and read and discussed and thought about by the whole family in order that everyone will know the aims and objects of the campaign.

The same campaign method will be followed Tuesday and Wednesday as on Monday. The pamphlets held out.

The boys who helped in the distribution of campaign literature Saturday under the direction of Scoutmaster Robert C. Rose, chairman of the Distribution Bureau, were the following: Scouts: Eugene Jolly, Howard Knight, Raymond Connor, Holbrook Yocum, George Leach, Charles Clark, Louis Ostreich, Joe Attatart, Stanley Muskie, Emilie Dixie, Wachon Joseph and Fred Prag.

Campaign workers will visit the homes of their district today soliciting contributions and pledges to the $250,000 fund and the workers in the mills will be approached by team members. Buttons, honor cards and "Give" posters will be distributed to who subscribe. The official score of the campaign as reported by the various towns will be shown on a large sign, 6 feet by 16 feet, to be placed in front of the Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

DANIELSON

In the town court Saturday morning, Leroy M. LaPlace of Killingly was before Judge W. Penner Woodward to face a charge of alleged criminal assault upon his daughter, Mildred LaPlace, a child of 14 years and 9 months. LaPlace trembled as with the palsy as he stood in the presence of the court and his daughter. He was received shortly and eventually entered a plea of not guilty. His case was continued until next Thursday, his bond being fixed at $500. As he could not furnish this amount he was taken to jail.

Private Philip Roberge, 103d machine gun company and winner of the Distinguished Service cross, will be honored this evening by the people of Danielson and other cities of the town of Killingly. Members of the Ninth Separate company, State guard, will turn out to do him honor, as will hundreds of citizens, who recognize in the extraordinarily heroic service he rendered in the Belleau wood fight that spirit which makes the American army invincible and the pride of the nation it represents.

Private Roberge is to be presented a solid gold watch of one of the best types made in America, a watch that has 21 jewels and that will be suitably inscribed.

The presentation will be made at the big united war drive rally that is to be held in the town hall, which hall without a doubt will be crowded to the doors, as thousands here wish to pay a fitting tribute to a soldier who has brought great credit not only to himself but as well to the town he represents. The fund for the purchase of the watch, which cost $1000, was quickly subscribed by persons who were anxious to do something to fittingly recognize Private Roberge's service and more money has continued to come in over and above what was required to meet the cost of the handsome timepiece. This money will be presented to Private Roberge.

The funeral of Anselme Meunier was held Saturday morning from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benoni Meunier in the Cyr building, Main street, with services at St. James' church at 9 o'clock. Rev. Alferie Charrier, M. S., his cousin, was celebrant of the high mass and requiem. The service was attended by a large delegation of relatives and friends. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. The bearers were George F. Davignon, Howard Wilbur, Thomas Joseph, Robert Hough, Oliver Clements and William Valentine, representing the Ninth Separate company, of which Mr. Meunier was a member and winner of a special decoration with the Croix de Guerre.

William Fryling is pastor. Mr. Malfoort, who has been making his headquarters in Danielson and Putnam, is to locate soon in Norwich.

Nearly all citizens who are owners of dogs have about reached the stage of resignation, because the law requires that the animals continue to remain in force after more than a year since it was first ordered. What applies in this respect to the feeling in the town is also applied to the hereabouts. Many dogs are roaming about, and nothing is said about it, yet those who are obeying the order feel that they should not turn their dogs loose until such time as a special permission to do so is granted. If the order to keep dogs confined is going to be at all effective, it should be enforced on all owners of dogs, it is argued. It is stated that the law is not so strict as it once was. It has been so long since the confinement order was put in force that some dogs have been allowed to go at large. It has been so long since the confinement order was put in force that some dogs have been allowed to go at large. It has been so long since the confinement order was put in force that some dogs have been allowed to go at large.

Several Danielson soldiers who are training at Camp Devens were at their home here over Sunday.

Manufacturers here seem to be alarmed at the prospect of a good business after the war, provided they are given adequate tariff protection, and this now seems assured with a republican congress coming into power.

Give! Give! Give! This is the week to do something for the boys over there.

for a visit with a relative George S. Pike. Thursday afternoon she left the Pike home to go to the cemetery to visit her mother's grave. When she did not return an alarm was sent out and the police notified. Boy Scouts who volunteered to search for Miss Perry found her clothing on the bank of the pond, and later the body was located and recovered. Mr. Hibbard, whose wife is Miss Perry's sister, said while in this city Saturday that Miss Perry had been in an impaired mental condition for some time. She had been melancholy at times and seemed to be growing weaker, mentally and physically. It is believed that her visit to her mother's grave aroused emotions that led her to the act of taking her own life.

Miss Perry lived for years in this city and for a long time was employed at the home of the late John Church, Grove street.

Putnam seemed quivering on the verge of another victory celebration Saturday afternoon, when it was given out here that it had been "officially" announced that Kaiser Wilhelm, the greatest bull-throver of all time, had finally abdicated. This report soon became coupled with another that armistice terms had been signed, and this was the cause for a motion to again start the celebration machinery going, but better counsel prevailed.

It is expected that high school and grade school pupils will contribute materially this week to making a success of the great drive for mercy funds. All of the young people, young girls and boys, are mightily interested and recognize in the drive their opportunity to do something for the welfare of the millions of young Americans who have gone into Uncle Sam's service, on land or sea.
